MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Svob@a's Speech to the Czech People

At 2:00 p.m. today our time, President Svobila delivered a ten-immute speech to the Czerhoslovak people.

Svobola said the Soviets assured the Cze hs that they up or them in their Action Program -- which is the program of internal liberalization and economic reform upon which the Czechs have embarked. In short, the Soviets appear to be saying they will not try to undo the Janu ry revolution.

Svolda also talked about reenforcing the unity of the Socialist countries and the Warsaw Pact, in order to strengthen their defensive against eventual enemy attack. Whether this means the Czechs have a red to some sort of Soviet military presence in Czechoslovakia is not clear. There has been talk in past days about Soviet observers attached to Czech military units, increased Soviet staff-level participation and other variants short of the actual stationing of Soviet divisions permanently on Czech territory.

Svobila also mentioned CEMA (the Eastern European economic coordinating body). This could be an oblique reference to some Czech assurance that they will try to solve their conomic problems within the family so far a possible, and go low on economic reorientation toward the West.

Svobda included a reference to blood shed in the struggle against German Fascism. It would not be surprising if the Czechs gave some assurance that they would go slow in developing ties or relations with West Germany. They may have assured the Russians that they would refrain from disturbing foreign policy initiatives.

There wis no explicit reference to censorship of the pres. UPI reports, however, that Dubcek agreed to damp down anti-Russian attacks in the Czech press.

t relay me to of the power should produce further clarificate or the remains to be seen how far the Russians will not to reopen sensitive questions in order to push the Czechs further back.
